BRYN MAWR, Sept. 21

Thrilling tumbles, when two men, both of whom are expert horsemen, eitched over the heads of their mounts while taking fences, featured the hunters' and jumpers' class at the 20th annual Bryn Mawr horse show today.

Roy Jackson, riding F. Wallis Arm strong's "Dreadnaught," fell while taking 100 yards from the tan back aval.

The few scattered society folk in the grandstand rose to their feet with a gasp as Jackson, who is M F. H. of the Rose Tree Hunt, was seen to plunge over his horse's head. He landed in a sitting posture while his mount sucked up to the jump. The rider than remainful and finished the course.

Hardly had the excitement of the first fall subsided when Lurman Stewart, of Baltimore, a brother of W. Punket Stewart, and who is riding John it. Valentine's horse, plunged head first over the shoulders of Fallen, a Jorse vidden yesterday by Mrs. Valentine.

Mr. Stewart fell directly in front of the grand stand when Fallan straddled the jump after falling to clear. The rider landed on his foot still retaining the reins. He remounted and continued the

PULITZER ESTATE SHOWS INCREASE OF TWO MILLION

Total Value of Late Publisher's Holding Placed at $18,637,545 in Report to Surrogate.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The report of the reappraisal of the estate of Joseph Pulitzer, ordered by Surrogate Cohalan, was submitted yesterday to the Surrogate's Court by Transfer Tax Appraiser Joseph I. Berry.

The report shows that the gross valuation of the estate has been increased from $18,528,116 to $20,855,985, and the net from $19,843,484 to $18,637,545, a net increase of $1,794,061. The estimated amount of the total tax is $335,000. Before the first appraisal $410,000 was paid into the State Treasury in order to take advantage of the 5 per cent, rebate, so there will be a refund of approximately $75,000. In order to get at the actual value of the Associated Press franchises held by the Press Publishing Company (the New York World) and the Pulitzer Publishing Company (the St. Louis Post-Dispatch), and to estimate the good will of these two newspapers, owned by Mr. Pulitzer, much testimony was taken.

After showing that there had been no change in the appraisal of the real estate fixed in the original report at $3.278,000, Mr. Berry placed the value of 1990 shares of the Press Publishing Company stock at $3.267,681, or $654.73 a share, and the value of 9164 shares of the Pulitzer Publishing Company stock at $2,677,292, or $292.15 a share. In thus appraising the stock, Mr. Berry states, he has added to the appraised value of the corporation's tangible property a "good will' value consisting of the value of the Associated Press memberships, $180,000, and all other elements of good will In the original report the franchises were not valued as such.

The appraisal is arrived at in part by taking the average annual carnings for four years preceding Mr. Pulitzer's death as a basis for capitalization

One hundred and twenty thousand dolars is allowed as an expenditure for conuses to employes. The appraiser also onsidered the restrictions upon the sale of the stock of the Press Publishing Com-pany inserted by the decedent in his will. In appraising the value of the Press Publishing Company the average an-nual net earnings are set at $511,220. These deductions are allowed: Sixty ner cent. of increase in the cost of white paper, $210,000: allowance for decedent's services, $100,000; 6 per cent, on capital invested, $121,350, and 6 per cent, on value of Associated Press franchise, $28,800. The total reductions are thus $460,150, and the average net earnings as a basis for 10 per cent. capitalization, $81,180. The good-will, originally appraised at $1,000,000, is brought down to $811,802. The $2,622,514, as in the original report. This actudes two Associated Press bonds $1600 par value, and makes the total value $3,307,671 gross and $3,267,681 net. The appraiser states that the average annual net earnings of the Pulitzer Pub-lishing Company for four years were $408,456. The average net earnings, less eductions, are $196,411.

Under the new appraisal the total per-Sonal property is valued at $17,677,985. This, with the real estate, valued at $3,278,000, makes the total $20,355,985 gross.

MARCONI TO TEST CENSORSHIP ORDER IN FEDERAL COURTS

Company Plans Injunction Against Navy Department Seizure of Siasconset Station, Which Sent Message to Belligerent.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23. Secretary of the Navy Daniels today faced an injunction suit from the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company to test the naval wireless censorship. Officials believed a test suit in the Federal courts of authority to invoke wireless censorship was inevitable. They were also confident that the result would be favorable to the Government.

Secretary Daniels' ultimatum to the Marconi Company, with a threat of seizure of its Siasconset, Mass., high-power transatiantic station, expired today. Failing to receive an explanation demanded from President John W. Griggs, former United States Attorney General, of transmission through the station of an alleged partisan message ten days ago to the British cruiser Suffolk for provisions, Mr. Daniels today planned an order of seizure by navy wireless officers, possibly reinforced by marines, of the Massachusetts plant.

Whether the Marconl company would anticipate the seizure order by filing an injunction suit and prevent closing of the station, pending hearing on an application for a temporary restraining order, was the technical legal doubt in the situation today. It was also undetermined whether the suit would be brought here, or in the New York or Massachusetts Federal courts."

Before taking final action today, the Secretary conferred with Attorney General Gregory and State Department officials regarding a request by the Marconi company to suspend action until the legal papers can be filed for the court test.

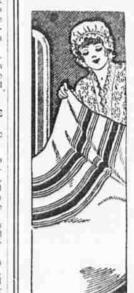

The case of the Government rests upon the contention that, during the war, this is a "time of public peril," when the President as commander-in-chief of the army and navy, may issue and enforce such neutrality regulations as he sees fit. That of the Marconi company is that there is complete absence of law giving the navy censorship authority. It also denies that the message to the cruizer Suffolk violated neutrality

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.-The Marconi Company today announced it is preparing papers for a suit in the Federal courts to letermine by judicial decision the control versy between the Navy Department and the Marconi Company over the Siasconsett station.

In a statement issued today, the Mar-coni Company contended that it has in no way attempted to evade the neutrality laws. The stateme The statement, in explaining the
